

KNECHT becomes MAHLE

For all commercial vehicle filters!

From now on, KNECHT filters for commercial vehicles will be sold under the MAHLE brand

Our filter range has so far been offered under both the MAHLE brand and our sales brand KNECHT. For commercial vehicles such as trucks, buses, agricultural vehicles, and construction machines, these products will be available exclusively from MAHLE going forward.

The commercial vehicle filters from the MAHLE and KNECHT brands were already manufactured to the same quality standards, just packaged differently. From now on, we will no longer offer the identical product under two different brands. If you've previously bought commercial vehicle filters from our KNECHT sales brand and now receive MAHLE filters instead, you can be confident that these are identical products. The only difference is the packaging.

The key facts in three points

- From now on, our KNECHT sales brand filters for commercial vehicles will only be available under the MAHLE brand.
- Only the packaging is changing—the contents, the quality, and the sales naming remain the same.
- The change applies to our entire range of commercial vehicle filters—from cabin filters and air filters to urea filters and air drier cartridges.
